Country living with all the conveniences of town, the Berrendo Springs Ranch is a magnificent retreat perfect for the seasoned farmer, rancher or nature lover. Here you will raise livestock, explore, or just plain relax and live the western lifestyle.

The headquarters – main house and generous double car garage – offer a comfortable and spacious private getaway. The working livestock facility – pens, hay barn and shop, are situated nearby the main house for ease of use.

In Roswell, New Mexico, this ranch offers rugged charm while providing close access to town and all its conveniences. In addition, this property is just a stone's throw from New Mexico's oldest country club and its 9-hole golf course and other amenities. All of this makes the Berrendo Springs Ranch a great place to raise your livestock and your family.

The Main House

The Berrendo Springs Ranch main house offers two baths and three bedrooms with viewing of the pecan orchard as well as the creek. A shop, hay barn and large double car garage comprise the impressive property. Nestled in a park-like setting, this residential compound sports a traditional ambiance with a touch of New Mexican charm.

Livestock raising and farming can be found at Berrendo Springs Ranch. Cattle, sheep and goats benefit from the ideal grazing conditions where the land is accessible year round. Facilities include working pens, pipe and wire pens, hay barn and workshop.

There are 12.5 acres of water rights which allow you the additional flexibility of year-round forage with little supplements. In the past, the area has supported livestock, hunting, fishing and family activities.

Ownership of Berrendo Springs Ranch is your opportunity to live the western lifestyle amidst the beautiful pecan orchard.
